

VIPER CENTRAL

Original Old-time Country music from Vancouver BC

Vancouver's Viper Central can rip it up bluegrass style with sweet n' crunchy harmonies and tight melodic breaks that'll make your heart soar, your feet shuffle and your blood curdle, but perhaps the thing that makes this band the most unique and exciting is how far they're able to wander from their home as a bluegrass band, turning the genre on its ear, while remaining true to their roots as such. Viper Central is an acoustic string-band that takes that "high lonesome sound" to new places. All members of this rotating group contribute original songs, but won't hesitate to deliver up their take on an ages-old mournful waltz or bring the house down with a barn-burning bluegrass standard

Canadian roots and the traditions of American Bluegrass, Country, Rockabilly and Old-time have influenced their ever evolving style. The songs reflect Canadian landscape and experiences and the result is entirely natural, effortless and delightfully original.
